Retractable Safety Syringe

The use of syringes in various forms plays a major part in patient health care. However, the growing awareness of needle stick injuries has highlighted the need to develop a solution that can reduce the needle stick injuries, help to save lives and limit rising medical costs.

CBRN Solutions UK, a leading company in specialist medical countermeasure solutions, can offer the retractable safety syringe as an immediate, effective solution to the needle stick problem. Since the syringes introduction into the UK in November 2006 it has generated an enormous amount of interest, in particular with a major health organisation. They concluded that because of the added safety features, with no additional injection behavioural changes and the cost benefit, there was no reason not to changeover to the use of this product.

Some of the important Features:

- Same look and use as conventional syringe
- Less injection behaviour changes
- Interchangeable retractable needles
- Tri bevelled and ultra-sharp stainless steel
- Full range of size, gauge and needle lengths
- Patented product
- Fully certified to International Standards

CBRN Solutions UK offers a complete Turnkey Door to Door delivery solution, incorporating:

- Complete E commerce ordering service
- Seasonal planning monitoring
- Unbroken logistical chain

Despite the conventional syringe appearance, the manufacturer has built in various safety features to virtually eliminate the possibility of a needle stick injury. A major feature is the ability to interchange different gauge needles whilst retaining the retractable capability
